POLICE COURT. - Business at the Police Cour yesterday morning was more than ordinarily dull. What his injuries are, we could not learn, but have been informed that they were of such a nature as to render his recovery a matter of some doubt. to render his recovery a matter of some doubt.

Cambridge, Capt. Dean, left this city Tuesday afternoon for New Orleans, quite heavily laden with freight. When she had reached Medoc Bar, near Rising Sun, she struck a rock and sunk immediately in four feet of water. The steamer Moderator, which hapwater. The steamer acceptance, which hap-pened to be passing at the time, rendered the officers of the sinking boat valuable service, but without avail. Of course no lives were lost, but the damage to the freight will cause heavy losses to shippers. The Cambridge can be raised and repaired, and will soon be fit for service. The boat was fully insured, but the freight owners were not-a neglect which seldom occurs, and is almost always disastrous.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO AN AGED WOMAN.—Quite an old woman named Margaret Raschkaw, who resides with her daughter on Western-row,near the Mohawk Bridge, was severely injured, day before yesterday, in the following manner: For a long time she has been quite infirm, although able to go about the house with some degree of sprightlines: with the aid of a cane. On the evening of Tuesday, upon going up to her room for the purpose of retiring, when at the had of the stairs, she was seized with a fit of paralysis and fell to the bottom. Her injuries are a broken arm, which will hardly be again of any service to her, even if she should recover, and a severe con-tused wound on the head. The shock her and reforming influences which are due to the system received from the accident rendered her ultimate recovery quite doubtful.

STABBING APPRAY AT THE WHARP—A MAN SERIOUSLY WOUNDED IN A FIGHT.—One of these unfortunate and sanguinary fights, which, in large cities, and in ours particularly, are much too common, took place evening before last on the wharf. The circumstances are as follows: John Hays accused a man named Christian F. Hoke-both of whom were deck-hands on a steamer now lying at the wharf-with having stolen some whisky that belonged to him. Moke denied it and a quarrel ensued, during which he was driven from the boat and afterward stabbed in the left side. The wound was dressed by a physicism who happened to be in the neighborhood, and said that, although it would be quite painful for a long time, it would not be likely to prove fatal. Hays was ar-rested by Officers Riggs and Anderson, and committed to the Hammond-street Stationhouse, to which place the wounded man was also taken and cared for to such an extent as to be made quite comfortable.

ANGELS IN THE CITY PRISON .- The anomaly sometimes occurs that angels who have fallen and those who have not are thrown into contact with each other, and such was the case yesterday. A party of five ladies, whose mild faces, gentle manners, sweet voices and rosy smiles seemed only made to beautify earth, and by their presence here prove the existence of a Heaven somewhere, visited the female department of the City Prison, not merely to satisfy an idle curiosity, but to leave a sympathetic pressure of the hand with its wretched immates, cast a ray of sunshine into their hearts or drop a word of ten-derness in their misery-burthened cars. Long they remained, and much of sympathy they seemed to waste; but what matters that? No seeined to waste; but wast matters that: No single word they spoke will ever be lost; but like good seed scattered upon the soil, will yet spring up within the hearts of those who heard them, and bear a thousand beauteous flowers of hope and love, whose fragrance will at least remind them of better days gone and brighter ones to come.

Message From Mayor Bishop to the City Council.

Our City Prison which has been a nuisance ever since we first saw it, and must have been tor some time previous to that, has been made the subject of the following message from Mayor Bishop to the City Council, which was read before that body yesterday evening. In every thing that is disagreeable and nameating this institution is certainly the greatest in the country, and more odors pervade it especially in summer, than Coloridge found in Cologne. We are not sorry, therefore, that the Mayor has determined to use his influence to have it has determined to use his influence to have it abated. The following is his message upor the subject:

MAYOR'S OFFICE. CINCINNATI, Oct. 24, 1859. To the Hone City Council of the City of Cin-

GENTLEMEN:—In my inaugural address to you, I called your attention to the necessity of a work-house for our city prisoners with especial reference to the entire separation of the females, and a better classification of those confined for different grades of crime. But as yet no steps have been taken to bring about this desired change in our prison discipline, and seeing the pressing necessity for speedy action urged by the dictates of humanity and the appeals of the public, I have thought proper to call your attention again to the suo-

To those who have visited the City Prison no words of mine are necessary to depict its utterly wretched and loathsome condition. It is not only destitute of every comfort suited to prison life, but it is shamefully wanting in those conveniences due to the most degraded prisoner. The ordinance establishing the City Prison (to which I call your special attention) is just and humane in its provisions. It contemplates suitable bedding, clothing, washing and other conveniences necessary for the health, cleanliness and morals of the prisoners. But these provisions are not carried out, nor can they be, in the crowded and miserable rooms of the present prison. As it is, all the female prisoners, averaging sixty in number, are confined in one illy-constructed and worse ventillated apartment. A few filthy rags con-stitute the entire bedding; the clothing of the prisoners is insufficient; decency is outraged; vice is engendered, and every pure impulse of the less guilty is blotted out. Amid this terrible want of all the decencies and proprieties of life, stretched upon the floor, with no support to the burning head or aching limbs, but a bundle of tattered rags, the sick are compelled to pass the weary hours, surrounded by throngs of the vile, with nothing to call their thoughts away from the wretchedness that surrounds them. I trust, gentlemen, to know such a state of things really exists, is sufficient to cause the application of a speedy remedy.

It may be said—nay it has been said—that the discomforts of the prison are no greater than the actual condition of the homes of the prisoners. This may be true of some, but it is not true of all the prisoners; and if it has such arguments, lose sight entirely of one of the elemental principles of all punishment-the reform-ation of the offender.

kindness, and may be wen back to virtue and happiness. We should therefore be neglectful of our duty, if in the infliction of penalties, we forgot entirely the interests of the prisoners, so far as they may be regarded with due respect to the safety of the public.

I recommend, therefore, that immediate steps be taken for the removal of the female prisoners from the present prison building. It will be necessary to procure some suitable building for this purpose. The grounds owned by the city can not be prepared for the erection of suitable buildings for a work-house until next spring or summer, and such building could not be completed in less than two years. So long a delay can not be made in the pro-posed change of the female department of the prison. I have, therefore, spent some time in seeking for a suitable building for the pur-pose, but as yet have found none in all respects completely adapted to the object had in view.

The School Building in the Third Ward, now the property of the city, and vacant, could, at a small expense, be made convenient and comfortable. I am also informed that the Asylum Building at Lick Bun will soon be vacated, and could be procured for this purpose. Other places still more practicable could doubtless be found upon proper inquiry.

Upon the removal of the female prisoners, why it was not done in this instance is not known. The poor fellow will have been punished sufficiently for his crime, even if the Court should discharge him.

for that purpose.

When the females are separated, as proposed,
I would recommend that the provisions of the ordinance in relation to the city prison and work-house he strictly enforced. that the prisoners be separated and classified with reference to age and crime, so that the young and less guilty shall not become hardened by intercourse with the more vicious and degraded. To secure proper attention on the part of the recommend the employment of a Matron, under whose special charge the prisoners shall be put, and who shall see that all the prisoners are employed at some work which may be furnished suitable to their condition, in order that the moral influence of mental and physical occupa-tion may be exerted upon those confined. Nothing can be more corrupting than the collecting together of the vicious and allowing them to spend their time in idleness. Under such circumstances vice assumes an alarming aspect, and the perverse tendencies of our na-ture develop themselves with unwonted vigor. I am assured by ladies who have interested themselves in behalf of this unfortunate class of our population, that a suitable Matron could be obtained, and that benevolent ladies are ready to assist in the reformator movement by visitation, if the Prison was under the con-trol of a Matron, and subject to those healthful prisoner.

In connection with these arrangements, a room for the sick should be fitted up under the control of the Matron and the City Physician. The ordinance in regard to the bedding, clothing, and other conveniences of the prisoners-above all their cleanliness and strict demeanor in the Prison-should be carefully enforced. I suggest, also, the propriety of providing, in compliance with the ordinance, a prison suit for both men and women, of coarse, ubstantial, but comfortable material.

Under this arrangement we could also carry out the wise provisions of the Act of the last Legislature, concerning vagrants, by sending them up for repeated offenses for a longer time than we are now enabled to, by reason of the inconvenience of the Prison, thereby saving to the city the expense of their repeated and frequant committal.

A longer time would enable the inebriate to reform an evil habit, and to all that class who reform an evil habit, and to all that class who now make the Prison their home, and live at the expense of the city, it would be a benefit, reforming them by a longer restraining influthe expense of the city, it would be a benefit, reforming them by a longer restraining influence, and begetting habits of sobriety and industry. Such arrangements would also tend to drive from our city those most hardened and impracticable subjects of our Prison disdo Pittaburg...

I trust this matter will elicit your prompt and earnest attention. It will give me pleasure to afford you all the aid in my power to secure the proposed change.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT-A MAN FALLS UPON A KNIPE AND IS SEVERELY INJURED .- About noon yesterday a man named Henry C. Gill, who resides on Broadway, near Hunt-street, was very seriously, probably fataliy, injured, by falling upon a large knife which at the time of the accident he held in his hand. For some years past he has been quite dissipated, not having drawn a sober breath during all this time, and has been entirely dependent upon his wife, who, with a beroism worthy of a better reward, has supported both him and his children by her exertions as a washerwoman. Yesterday at noon he came home, and after asking for some dinner, which in consequence of his habits his wife was unable to give him, he seized a large butcher-knife, and while crossing the floor toward the cupboard trod upon a piece of apple, which circumstance, combined with his insbriated condition, threw him heavily to the floor. The knife, which he still held in his hand, entered his left side a short distance above and behind the hip, insiloting an injury which in all probability will cause his death. A physician was called in, who attended to his wound and rendered all the assistance in his power, but he is quite doubtful as to the result. Some of the neighbors, who by the accident became aware of the condition of his family, have rendered them some assistance, and made them quite as comfortable as the circumstances will permit. The physical condition of the patient, however, is quite favorable to inflammation of the viscera, and should this set in, the wound, without a BLOODY APPRAY ON THE BOULEVARD OR SAUBAGE-A MAN'S SKULL SERIOUBLY FRAC-TURED .- A fight which, it is quite probable will result in the death of one of the parties occurred yesterday evening, in that detestable locality known as Sausage-row. IMMATURE DESIGN FOR PUBLIC GOOD. Hezekiah Kiersted, member of the City Council, always forward and firm in ferretting out rescalities of official functionaries, in and out of Council, in conjunction with Mr. Frazer, his associate of the Third Ward, and Mr. Johnson, of the Fourth Ward, submitted to the City Council a paper to the following effect:

"We charge Judge Lowe, of the Police Court, with misdemeanor in office, for ordering the Clerk of said Court to pay to John S. Gano meneys received in said Court for fines and costs, which by law the said Clerk should have paid into the City Treasury."

The sum is $999, not fines or costs, but fees of the Marshal. This is a question now before the Court, soon to be determined, and the proposition, by a vote of eighteen to awelve, is laid on the table. There can not be a shade of suspicions against the integrity of Judge Lowein this regard. It is well to be observant of official misconduct, and vigilant Councilmen like Mr. Kiersted are of valuable pervice.

Confession of Dwelly.-- Mr. Dwelly was yesterday arraigned before the Police Court, and made a confession, the substance of which, whether reliable or not, we give for the benefit of our readers:

"He had a partner in the instrument business named George Wallenstein, a Frenchman, and who has been for some time confined in the Cincinnati jail. He states that on the night of the great conflagration in Boyles' establishment, on Columbia-street, Cincinnati, both he and his partner started for the fire, and while passing Laird's bookstore, his partner placed a key in the door, against which he (Dwelly) protested. Thereupon Wallenstein drew a pistol, and threatened his life, if he ever revealed anything. Dwelly then stood by the door, while Wallenstein entered, and carried away the articles referred to in our article of yesterday. He claims that he never derived any benefit from the stolen goods, but that Wal-lenstein got them all; and, further, that he would long ago have revealed the crime, but from fear of his life."

This statement must, without doubt, be received with many allowances. In the first place, all that were recovered were obtained from Dwelly, consisting of one overland. from Dwelly, consisting of one opera-glass and a few other articles of little value; and in the second place, it does not look ressonable that it was done while they were going to the ire, as they would almost certainly have been caught by others, who were aroused by the conflagration; and third, he could have entertained no fear of Wallenstein, as he has been for some time incurcerated in the Hamilton County Jail. He was held to ball in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at the next term of the Circuit Court. He was incarcerated in default of a bondsman,
